

OPINION PIECE
THURSDAY 29TH OCTOBER 2020
BISHOP BRIAN TAMAKI

The article just out from Newsroom “The Case for Teaching Islam in NZ Schools” is an alarm bell for all New Zealanders. https://www.newsroom.co.nz/ideasroom/a-case-for-teaching-islam-in-schools?fbclid=IwAR2Ixu40cDFS9ArbUI5F3LTjmPo0I2lCsdX9KPUwjJq2kjinXtwzGB_60FmA

It's, therefore, more than reasonable for me to say “There is an even Stronger Case to Teach Christianity in NZ Schools”. This is despite in recent times there being such a public outcry to our own founding faith being taught in our own schools with much controversy also surrounding the removal of Jesus’ name out of our Parliamentary prayer.

This is an important conversation New Zealand needs to urgently have, now that our country has fallen completely into the hands of the extreme Liberal-Left. It's a well-known fact that the Labour/Greens Government have no time or toleration for Christianity at all, and in fact, Christian-Phobia has been well underway since the Helen Clark regime when she declared New Zealand was now a secular state with no official religion. She even had the nasty motivation to include the above in the New Zealand Bill of Rights revealing that there has always been an agenda by the Liberals to remove our founding faith and open the door to many other foreign religions to enter New Zealand. The depth of this genocidal agenda to remove Christianity out of our history was evidenced when they held an International Inter-Faith-Forum at Waitangi in 2007 which mostly comprised of Islam, Hindu and Eastern religions. One need not possess any discernment to work out that a multi-religious onslaught, through New Zealand's immigration plans, was on the cards with Helen Clark actively inviting them to build their mosques and temples in New Zealand with government assistance promised. I warned New Zealand Christians of this at the time, but despite government's denials and attempts to brush their agenda under the carpet to hide it and disguise it, the above has now been proven completely true by their actions.

Yet, here is the dire warning. This same pattern of Christian-Phobia began some years before in Europe, Western European countries and Great Britain with the same Liberal-Left agenda being rolled out there persecuting Christianity, removing Christian History (Flags, National Anthems, Prayers in Public, Schools and Parliaments). They then promoted multi-culturalism through immigration/refugees from predominantly Islamic nations as the new Global Order, then aggressively began a propaganda mission that Islam, Hinduism and Secular Humanism would eventually out-number and neutralize Christianity's influence that primarily underpins Western Civilization as we have known it. Europe and Great Britain have and still are paying a high price for this, with London now 53% non-English in population with large sectors of their society now enacting Sharia Law and with Islamic culture replacing Western culture. Violence, Terrorist activities and social upheaval are virtually turning Europe into Egypt!

Mosques and temples now also dominate many Auckland suburbs reaching throughout New Zealand with increasing numbers of eastern religions now becoming the fastest growing religions in New Zealand. The demand for political power, special holidays and events for these eastern religions is on the increase and now this request to bring Islam into mainstream education clearly reveals how passively permissive New Zealanders have become.

Jesus Christ himself alluded very strongly to the above scenario in Matthew 12:43-45

"When an unclean spirit goes out of a man, he goes through dry places, seeking rest, and finds none. Then he says, 'I will return to my house from which I came.' And when he comes, he finds it empty, swept, and put in order. Then he goes and takes with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter and dwell there; and the last state of that man is worse than the first. So, shall it also be with this wicked generation."

This shows that when you remove Christ, there is a spiritual vacuum that's created that then is substituted by seven demons more wicked than the former that Christ had originally removed.

The Liberals agenda for its permissiveness opens the door to perversion. When a nation tolerates, it exonerates the underside of multi-culturalism. There is a strong case to be made in New Zealand of what is our nation's predominant religion or faith, and the effects of when a country sadly turns its back on God.

Recently there have been positive calls to teach more Māori history in our New Zealand schools. Alongside this Māori history, we need to also teach about Christianity. Our Māori history and Christianity are intrinsically linked. We need to strengthen our founding faith for the following reasons:

1. Christianity was brought here by white Missionaries/Settlers, and Māori very quickly adopted it as it resonated with Māori's long-held prior beliefs in a supreme being, called Io, and Christianity provided clarity to what Māori had already spiritually discerned.
2. Christianity was the one thing that prevented extermination, and the continued bloodshed. It gave Māori opportunities to have at least a bargaining chip as it ushered in Te Tiriti o Waitangi, delivering a partnership of two people to birth our nation Aotearoa New Zealand

I'm sorry, but why should New Zealand even entertain ideas of teaching Islam in our schools, when we can't even teach properly our own Māori history, and founding faith, to our students?

New Zealanders have yet to fully realise the magnitude of what is currently playing out, as they permissively allow our country to remove all references to Christ, and freely open their arms to every other religion.

Now, more than ever is the time for Christians to stand up, to Fight for The Faith and to restore the place of Christ in this nation!

Listen up this Sunday at 10am, as I speak to this nation further about the need to rethink our national religion, and our Fight for The Faith!
